PRESENTATION

WELCOME
LETTER FROM THE ORGANIZING COMMITTEE
/ BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Dear Colleague,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, it is my pleasure to inform you that the 4th International Lipidomics Conference of the International Lipidomics Society (ILSConf 2025) will be held in Madrid, at the Hospital Universitario Ramón y Cajal - Instituto Ramón y Cajal de Investigación Sanitaria, from Tuesday, October 28th to Friday, October 31st.

This year marks a special milestone as we celebrate the 4th Lipidomics Conference in a healthcare institution actively involved in clinical activity. The Hospital Universitario Ramón y Cajal is one of the top healthcare institutions in Spain and the European Union.

The conference will cover the most exciting and relevant topics in lipidomics research, with a particular focus on Lipidomics in Health and Disease, Functional Lipidomics, Lipid Metabolism, and Lipidomics in Nutrition. Emerging challenges in the lipidomics field, such as lipid imaging, single-cell lipidomics, and the complexities of in vivo and in vitro lipid isotope tracing, will also be addressed. Advances in mass spectrometry techniques, including GC-MS, LC-MS, MALDI-MS, etc, will be a prominent topic. Standardization of lipidomic measurements, quantification, and collaborative efforts to improve the reliability and reusability of lipidomics data will be discussed, along with advances in bioinformatics tools to make lipidomics more accessible to other scientific fields.

This year, holding the conference in a hospital setting underscores the growing significance of lipidomics in addressing disease-related challenges. Our ultimate goal in Clinical Lipidomics is to facilitate the translation of lipidomic findings into real-world health solutions. The conference will be an excellent opportunity to bring together clinical experts and top scientists in the lipidomics field, fostering synergies between diagnostic-focused and mass spectrometry companies.

Looking forward to the next decade, our goal is to advance lipidomics into clinical and epidemiological applications. The symposium will include special workshop sessions dedicated to this goal, with joint sessions that bring together clinicians, scientists, and industry representatives to identify unmet clinical needs. Social activities will be organized to promote interactions of this kind. Our sponsors, pioneers in cutting-edge technology, will also award prizes for the best oral presentations and posters. Activities to encourage networking between senior and young scientists are planned.

Madrid, a city rich in history and culture, offers a splendid backdrop for our congress. The city's vibrant atmosphere, from its lively streets to the enchanting Austrias' old town, creates an inspiring setting for intellectual exchange and collaboration.

The meeting website, www.iLSConf2025Madrid.com, will be updated shortly with the preliminary scientific program. Deadlines for abstract submission and general information about the meeting and its venue will be available soon.

Should you need further information, please do not hesitate to contact us or our Organizing Secretariat, Cevents.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.

BACKGROUND

The last International Lipidomics Society Conference took place at Tsinghua University of Shenzhen, China 2024, one of the leading academic institutions in the world. The conference brought together key figures in the field of Lipidomics discussing major topics in the field. We had 40 nationally and internationally renowned speakers, from 15 different countries (China, Spain, Germany, Austria, Korea, Japan, Singapore, Italy, USA, India, Finland, Canada, Australia, Qatar, Czech Rep.). Additionally, we were fortunate to have 12 sponsoring partners who contributed to the success of the congress.

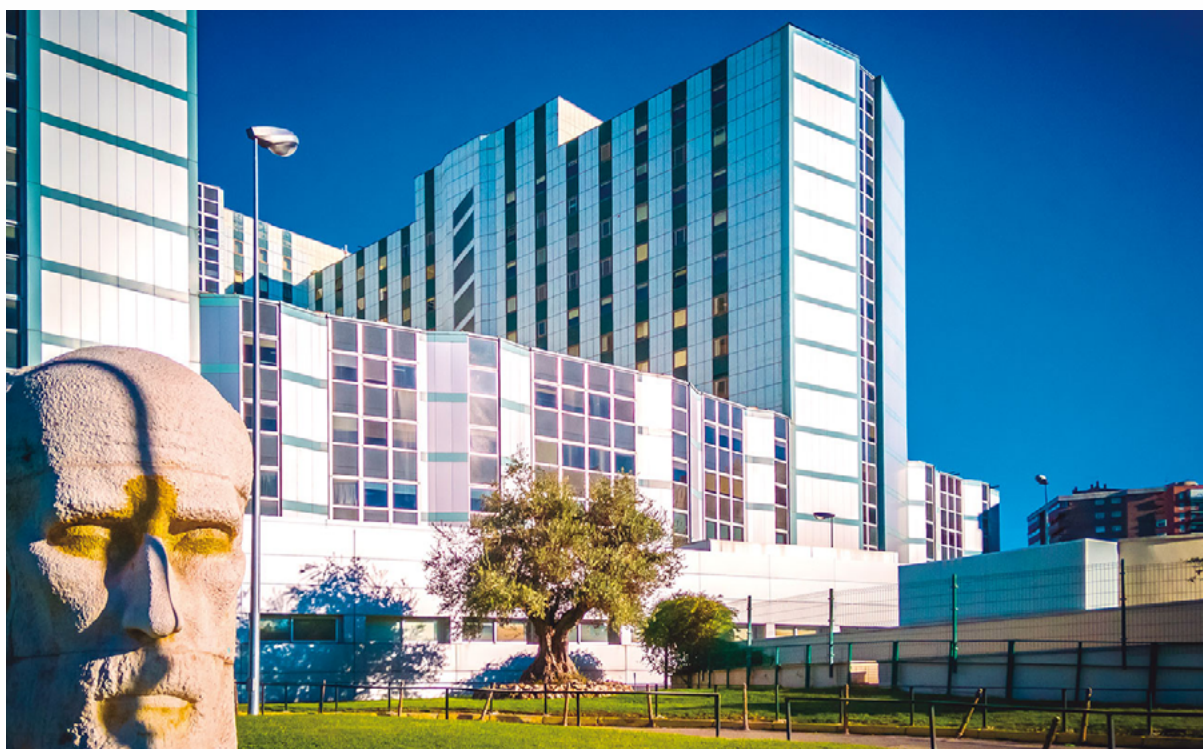

Next year, as part of our expansion strategy, we move the conference to Spain for the first time, with the aim of sharing the state of the art in Lipidomics worldwide available. Also aiming to transfer knowledge from the field to the human health.

In this edition, we anticipate an estimated attendance of 150-200 participants, featuring around 20 high-profile speakers, over 70 presentations, and the collaboration of 15 industry partners.
